Lincoln Workshop Series
Learning Through Experience

Appreciative Inquiry (AI)
Human Interaction & Group Process

Gallese, Italy 14 – 20 October 2017

Appreciative Inquiry is a theory and practice well suited to today's fast-paced, multicultural, and communications-centric work environment. Achieving personal and organizational success is a strength learned from positive and effective interactions with others – as well as from a clear understanding of how groups form and evolve. Learn how to enhance your interactions by gaining a clear and practical understanding of how groups form, work together and evolve as well as how to gain the skills for working with different communication styles from an AI perspective to increase your personal and professional effectiveness. Developing a deep understanding of AI and applying AI principles real time in daily interactions during this intensive workshop gives you the foundation for personal and professional success.

Participating in this program:

- Gives you a solid foundation for understanding the theory and processes of group development
- Increases your personal and group effectiveness in a diverse, multicultural environment
- Generates the capacity to give and receive feedback in a supportive and generative way
- Improves your ability to understand your own strengths and those of others
- Enables you, as a group member, to heighten your awareness of the impact of your behaviour and patterns of response within the group and to experiment with new behaviour if desired
- Generates a deeper understanding of group development and group dynamics through a social constructionist perspective

The course opens new channels of communication and personal insight by identifying and building on your strengths.

What previous participants have said about this workshop:

"An exciting, powerful growth experience – unparalleled by anything I've experienced before – challenging, illuminating, re-affirming." (Paula, Ireland)

"Invaluable. This lab has enabled me to learn more about myself in 5 days than I have learnt in 25 years – it has renewed my energy, focus and sense of purpose. Inspiring & life affirming." (Debra, UK)

"An absolute "must" if you want to develop your skills in AI." (Freddie, South Africa)

"An amazing experiment in how we interact and how we construct our reality together; how a group of individuals who wish to reach their own individual purpose can create an environment where the individual goals are reached through the interactions in the group."(Diane Van den Berge, France)
